

GAME INSTRUCTIONS

"Snap the Golden Egg"

You need:

- > 2-4 game figures, depending on the number of participating players
- > 1 dice
- > Chocolate or carrots for the 2nd game version

Game history:

Put your game figures to the start. The first player rolling a 6 may start the game.

Follow the specified arrow clockwise.

If you get to a field with the rabbit, you can hop three fields further.

Reaching a field with the carrot, you have to interrupt out a round, because the rabbit is hungry and wants to rest.

If a player enters the field marked "snap", the dice should show a number between 1 and 3 to move towards the "Golden Egg".

If you dice a 4, 5 or 6, you stay outside dice until you reach another "snap" field to try getting to the golden egg again.

Likewise, play within the "snap" area, that means, if the diced number is too high to reach the goal, you have to hop outside again.

Second game version:

For this you need either carrots or chocolate, depending on your taste. Children may love chocolate, adults may like carrots.

The more active and perhaps more funny version would be, if someone comes to the rabbit, the person itself, has to hop like a rabbit.

If someone comes to the "carrot field", a carrot or a piece of chocolate should be eaten, and the player has to interrupt for one round. Otherwise you play as in the first version, until someone reaches the "Golden egg" and wins.
